

Founder Robert P. Crosby

Bob Crosby learned the trade from the founders of Organizational Development in the 1950s, and has become a mentor in his own right to countless leaders and professionals. His visionary methods played a pivotal role in the PECO Nuclear turnaround, and have resulted in similar dramatic results in many other organizations, both in the US and abroad. He founded the Leadership Institute of Seattle (LIOS) graduate program, and has written several powerful books on organizational leadership and development. He is still going strong in his early 80s, working at home and abroad.

Activate this link to see and hear Founder Robert Parson Crosby lead an impromptu choir in "Peace I Ask of Thee O River"!